

Anthem hospital guide for the Individual HIX network

Understanding hospital types

Acute care – Provides care for short-term stays, including surgery or urgent medical conditions.

Critical access – Provides care for critically ill patients.

Rehabilitation – Provides treatment to patients requiring additional care after stabilization of acute medical issues.

Long-term – Provides care to patients with complicated medical issues that require medical management and a longer stay.

Veterans affairs – Provides a range of services to veterans and retired military personnel.
